All about the environment

Onboard, we take pride in minimising our environmental footprint. Reuse, Recycle and Regenerate is our ethos.

Using reef safe methods inside and out to help reduce our impact on the ocean and marine life.

Social Spaces – Exterior

LYRA boasts many social spaces. Our Flybridge has plenty seating, tanning beds, duel helm stations and a fully set up bar as well as a sun shade and hard top. Moving to the Cockpit, we have a dining table for 10 guests, lounge beds, more seating, a platform and sugar scoop extensions to maximise the space, including stern showers on either side. A bar set up with fridge space as well as a Webber grill and Ooni pizza maker. The front terrance has lounging, trampolines, custom dolphin seats and a cold water splash pool as well as as sunshade. There is also a projector onboard for screening games, movies and videos and a Fusion sounds system.

Social Spaces - Interior

LYRA has a bright, inviting, homey interior design. She has a large Saloon, including a well set up seating/lounge area with a hydraulic table that can fold open for dining and/or games. There is a TV for movie nights and a Fusion sound system onboard. Her galley is fitted out with all the bells and whistles, from juicers, to ice makers, to a plumped in water system for still or sparkling water. Over at the Navigation Station, she has all systems easily available for the crew to manage.

Accommodation

5 queen cabins, all with en-suit heads. Lots of storage space with drawers, hanging space, including bed side storage for US plugs and USB cables. Each cabin has a TV and its own sound system. Luxury bedding was chosen for the cabins to elevate that hotel feeling. All heads have reef safe shampoo, conditioner and body wash. CREW

Captain Pieter Moller

Pieter grew up on the west coast of South Africa in a small town called Vredenburg, spending weekends and holidays free-diving for lobster.

After 16 years in the family business, the call of the sea finally became too strong to ignore, and he decided to pursue a career as a yacht Captain.

He has a passion for fishing, diving, water sports, and all things ocean-related, and loves sharing these experiences with guests while exploring the beautiful Caribbean.

With six years of experience as a Captain, Pieter has put down roots in the Caribbean, which he now proudly calls home.

His first love, however, came long before sailing. As a Divemaster, diving will always be his greatest passion. With extensive knowledge of the ocean and its marine life, he enjoys sharing his enthusiasm and educating the next generation of divers.

When he isn't at the helm, you'll find him crafting Instagram-worthy cocktails. As an accomplished mixologist, he'll make sure you always have a drink in hand.

Chef Dani Lund

Growing up in South Africa, Danielle's love for food began in her gran's kitchen, where she spent countless hours watching her prepare delicious meals for family and friends.

Those early memories sparked a passion that would eventually become her career, and today she is proud to be living the dream she has had since she was young.

Cooking is where Danielle feels most at home.

She loves the creativity of transforming simple ingredients into memorable meals and believes that sharing great food is one of the simplest ways to bring people together.

Her style is rooted in fresh, honest cooking, balancing elegance and comfort while drawing subtle inspiration from her South African heritage and celebrating the flavours and cultures of the places she has been fortunate enough to explore.

First Mate GK Hwata

Born in Zimbabwe and raised between Zimbabwe and South Africa, I have always been happiest in the water.

Fishing, spearfishing, freediving and scuba diving have always been my greatest passions, alongside volunteering with the National Sea Rescue Institute in South Africa.

In 2017, I decided to make the ocean my office and became a scuba diving instructor. Since then, I have been fortunate enough to exploring some of the best dive sites on the planet.

One of my greatest passions is continually expanding my knowledge of the ocean. Over the years, I have completed courses in underwater photography and videography, as well as shark awareness and behaviour.

After nine years as a diving professional, the time has come for a new adventure—one that allows me to spend more time on top of the water than beneath it.

I am looking forward to creating unforgettable experiences for guests onboard and helping them make memories that will last a lifetime.
